Clyde D. Berger Is Elected National Commander, World Wars Tank Corps Association

Clyde D. Berger, of Merion Station, Pa., a former resident of Gettysburg, was unanimously elected national commander of the World Wars Tank Corps Association, at a business meeting in the Hotel Gettysburg this morning.

Wilson T. Sweet, of Charlotte, N. C., was elected senior vice commander. Both men had been nominated for the office of commander at a business session Friday afternoon.

Hold Reunion Here

At a business session Friday afternoon the Veterans adopted a resolution making Gettysburg the Tankers' meeting place every two years. They voted to assemble every two years as long as there is one surviving member able to attend.

M. D. DeTar, New Oxford, president of the Aero Oil Company, and chairman of the National Reunion Committee, was elected permanent chairman for the Gettysburg Reunions with authority to name his own committee.

One Tanker of 18 remarked, "It looks like Gettysburg is as much sold on the Tankers as the Tankers are sold on Gettysburg since many married beautiful Gettysburg girls and have remained here, so here we return every two years to pay homage to the Tank Corps shrine on the Civil War Battlefield."

Adopt Resolutions

Several resolutions were adopted: The official cap will be red for artillery, yellow for cavalry and blue piping for the infantry.

"Whereas, the World War One veterans are reaching the age that brings them close to the end of their earthly activities and closer to everlasting peace. Therefore, it is hereby resolved that World War One veterans non-service pension laws be amended to grant pensions at the age of 65 with no strings attached."

"Whereas, the non-service pension for veterans has limitations of income of $1,400 single and $2,700 for veterans with a dependent, there being also the disability and unemployable clause that denies a veteran the right to receive the pension if employed and earning income of less than the limitation. The true intent of the pension laws are dissolved regardless of the age of 65 or older. It is resolved that the unemployable clause be stricken from the pension laws and that if limitation of incomes are maintained the pension shall continue until such time as the pensioner has received the equivalent of the income limitation operating similarly to that of social security."

Welcomed By Burgess

Burgess William G. Weaver delivered the address of welcome at the dinner in the Hotel Gettysburg dining room Friday evening. He "apologized" for his unshaven face saying "I'm getting ready to celebrate the sesquicentennial of the founding of Gettysburg and a beard is one of the essentials."

"I'm very proud to again welcome you veterans back home. I recall your early training days, how my Mother acted as a 'mother' for many of you. I recall those old days, although I was too young to be a veteran then. I hope that I will have an opportunity to welcome you to Gettysburg again two years from now when you return for another reunion," the Burgess added.

M. David DeTar, chairman of the National Reunion Committee, spoke briefly. He told of transferring from the Air Force to the Tank Corps and of his associations in Gettysburg.

President's Greetings

The following greeting from President Eisenhower was received by Dewey Heil, national commander of the World Wars Tank Corps Association:

"With pleasure I extend my greetings to the members of the World Wars Tank Corps Association assembled for the Gettysburg reunion. Such meetings do much to keep fresh friendships born under the stress of warfare, to renew memories shared by men who fought side by side for freedom. All of you have my warm best wishes for a happy reunion and my sincere regrets that I cannot personally be with you on this occasion."

The greeting was read at Friday's business session. The Tankers then adopted the following resolution:

"Resolve, That this reunion of the World Wars Tank Corps Association do hereby send their best regards to President Dwight D. Eisenhower with the best wishes for his continued recovery so that he may carry on in his efforts for peace."

CIVIL DEFENSE TEST WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Pennsylvanians will have their first opportunity to check the effectiveness of emergency radio news sources during next week's nationwide civil defense test. All that is needed is for one member of each family to "tune in" on the Conelrad radio broadcast scheduled for 4:10 to 4:25 p.m. next Friday.

Conelrad is a special radio broadcasting system. It is designed to provide the public with emergency information and instructions under attack conditions, without simultaneously granting aid to the enemy. Under this system, certain standard, or AM, radio stations will continue to broadcast on the special Conelrad frequencies — 640 or 1240 on your dial — while all FM and TV stations "go off the air."

Previous aerial tests have shown that Conelrad will prevent the enemy from using radio beams to help lead his aircraft and missiles to their assigned targets. On the other hand, it remains to be seen whether or not all Pennsylvanians readily can hear emergency information and instructions broadcast by stations on Conelrad.

Urges Cooperation

In order to determine the geographical coverage of Conelrad, all Pennsylvania families are urged to participate next Friday in a statewide listening survey called "Project Tune In."

The over-all objective of this project, developed and sponsored by the State Council of Civil Defense, (Continued On Page 3)

Dr. Roy M. Dunkelberger Is Killed In Collision Of Trailer And Two Cars

Mrs. Dunkelberger died in Columbia Hospital at 10:20 a.m.

The Rev. Dr. Roy M. Dunkelberger, 71, 239 S. Howard St., and Leonard S. Kable, York, were fatally injured and Mrs. Dunkelberger is in a critical condition at the Columbia Hospital as the result of a three-way accident this morning at 7:20 o'clock one mile east of Columbia on the Lincoln Highway.

A trailer, which separated from a truck, collided with two autos causing the accident, police said.

It was reported that Donald R. Sadler, Middletown R. 1, was driving west on the highway with a Penn Line Service, Scottsdale, Pa., tractor-trailer which was loaded with 10 large utility poles.

The trailer became separated from the truck and veered to the center of the highway.

BERMUDIAN JT. BOARD MOVES TO GET NEW SCHOOL

At that moment Leonard S. Kable, was passing the auto being driven by Dr. Dunkelberger, both headed east. The Kable car smashed into the runaway trailer and went off the highway. Kable was pinned underneath the wreckage.

Following that collision the trailer then struck the Dunkelberger auto, shearing off the front portion of the car. Dr. Dunkelberger was apparently killed instantly. Mrs. Dunkelberger was rushed to the Columbia Hospital where her condition was reported as critical.

The Dunkelbergers had left here early this morning on a vacation trip to Ventnor, N. J.

Dr. Dunkelberger was born in New Bloomfield, a son of the late Josiah and Jane (Dumm) Dunkelberger. He graduated from Dickinson College in 1906 and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary here in 1909.

He was licensed by the Central Pennsylvania Lutheran Synod in synod in 1909.

Following his ordination in 1909 Dr. Dunkelberger went to India as a missionary where he spent most of his life in that field of work. He was currently on furlough and was to retire at the conclusion of the furlough.

His survivors include a son, the Rev. Dr. Harold A. Dunkelberger, E. Lincoln Ave.; one daughter, Mrs. Stanley Whitson, Elkins, W. Va., and four grandchildren.

Giant Military Transport Plane Crashes At Fort Dix And 45 Die

FT. DIX, N.J. — A military transport plane, disappearing into the rain after takeoff, crashed in a pine swamp area of this huge Army reservation yesterday, carrying 45 servicemen and civilian passengers to death.

Two women and two children were among the dead. Twenty-one persons were injured, some critically.

The giant C118A left adjacent McGuire Air Force Base about 4 p.m. (EDT) with a 10-man crew, 50 military passengers and six civilians bound for foreign posts. It was headed for Burtonwood, England.

Hit "Air Pocket"

One survivor, an airman, said the plane hit "an air pocket," a down current which frequently occurs in thunderstorms and causes planes to drop suddenly. The Air Force declined comment on his report.

The four-engine craft plunged into the swamp at the southwest corner of this infantry training center, cutting a 300-yard long swath through the pine trees. The spot is about three miles from the McGuire runway.

Wreckage was scattered for half a mile.

AF Starts Probe
The wings and three engines broke off as the plane tore through the trees. Col. John Williams, commander of the 161st Air Transport Group, said the gas tanks in the wings thus were separated from the fuselage, preventing any fire.

A special Air Force board started an investigation into the cause of the crash.

Only a few minutes before the takeoff a thunderstorm had rumbled across the area with blinding rain, hail and lightning.

However, Air Force public information officers said the rainfall was not heavy at the time the plane was given clearance. They (Continued On Page 3)

7 Anti-Reds Seize Hungarian Air Liner And Crash Land To Freedom

INGOLSTADT, Germany — Seven anti-Communists seized a Hungarian airliner and flew to West Germany last night after a wild midnight battle in which the pilot tried to quell the rebels by looping the big plane.

The daring break—planned far in advance—was perhaps the most spectacular dash for freedom in a long series of escapes from Iron Curtain lands.

Twelve passengers and crewmen were battered and bloody after the desperate fight high over Hungary for control of the two-engine plane.

5 In Wild Scuffle

Some were injured when the pilot tried to thwart the plotters by putting the ship into a series of bone-bruising loops. Others were wounded by blows from iron rods the anti-Reds used in their dramatic bid for freedom.

The break was directed by a Hungarian World War II pilot. The veteran, identified by his comrades only as "the lieutenant," was the only plotter who had a gun.

Fifteen passengers, including a Communist secret police agent and four crewmen, were involved in the wild scuffle.

After the rebels took over, the lieutenant brought the plane to a crash landing at a U.S. airfield near Ingolstadt.

The first man to emerge from the plane, his face bloody, shouted "Bonn! Adenauer! Germany!"

Before German police managed to take command, several brief brawls broke out between the anti-Reds and those who wanted to go back to Hungary.

The seven plotters and another passenger asked West German authorities for political asylum. The four crewmen and seven other passengers said they wanted to go back.

Will Return Plane

Police said the plane, an American-built DC3 of the state-owned Melay Airlines, will be returned to Hungarian authorities after a check to see whether it is safe to fly.

The plane had been en route from Budapest to the provincial city of Szombathely, southwest of the capital.

Details of the escape were given last night by one of the seven plotters — Joseph Jakaby, 25, a Budapest student.

Jakaby said the coup had been planned long in advance and the plotters had decided to seek haven in West Germany.

A firemen's parade and talks by Judge W. C. Sheely, Congressman James Quigley and Assemblyman Francis Worley this evening will feature the observance of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Irishtown Fire Company.

The observance began Friday evening with entertainment by the Twilight Entertainers at a festival at Irishtown. Company's Record
The company was organized at a meeting in St. Peter's school July 17, 1931. At that time a fire company was formed with 33 members. Now membership totals 200.

During the first year the company built a reservoir holding 40,000 gallons of water. The reservoir was built on a plot of leased land since purchased by the company. In 1930 the company bought another plot of ground in Mt. Misery and built another reservoir for 40,000 gallons of water.

It has a 1939 Ford truck mounted with a 400 gallon Darley pumper and a 250 gallon booster tank with 600 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 600 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose and a 1949 Ford service truck with a 400 gallon water tank and 400 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose.

FORMER ADAMS TEACHER HURT

Paul Benchoff, 31, former Fairfield High School teacher and now vocational agriculture teacher in the Waynesboro Area School System, suffered severe injuries to his left eye when struck by the wedge end of a screw driver.

The accident occurred about 4 p.m. Thursday while Paul and his brother Richard, who operates the Shell Service Station at South Potomac and Eighth Street in Waynesboro, were repairing the starter mechanism of a truck.

They had the starter mechanism knocked down and were working on the station driveway. Paul was holding the starter casing and Richard was using the screw driver as a pry. When Richard applied leverage a wire snapped and the pressure carried the screw driver upward.

The wedge end of the driver lacerated the cornea of Paul's left eye. Benchoff was taken to the Waynesboro Hospital and later transferred to the Washington County Hospital and placed under the care of an eye specialist.

An emergency operation was performed. Physicians said the injury would scar the eye and reduce the visibility but could not say to what extent.

VFW CLOSES ENCAMPMENT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars winds up its 37th annual encampment today with that big public treat, the customary colorful parade through the heart of the city.

The veterans adopted a resolution yesterday urging the United States to pursue a Middle East policy whose aim would be the signing of non-aggression pacts by all powers in that sphere.

The VFW said the present policy "hangs on appeasement" and "will delay war but never prevent" one.

Copies of the resolution are being sent to the White House and the State Department.

All such resolutions get ultimate attention at the VFW's national convention next month.

One of yesterday's speakers, Harry Boyer, head of the state CO Council, told the veterans that in their efforts to smother subversion they should not lose sight of the right of all citizens.

"We should not lose sight of our determination to fight for the rights of someone who disagrees with us," he said. "We are more on trial than we sometimes think."

BITTER SENATE FLOOR FIGHT IS AHEAD ON AID

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter fight on the Senate floor began shaping up today on the heels of Senate Appropriations Committee approval of $4,105,420,000 in new money to finance foreign aid spending this year.

By a 13-8 vote, the committee yesterday recommended $680,300,000 more than the House allowed and only $9,655,000 less than the maximum fixed earlier in an authorization bill passed by both houses. Counting reappropriation of funds previously voted but unspent, the money bill's total was $4,346,220,000. The Eisenhower administration originally had asked about five billions.

But Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), an administration supporter, told a reporter "we are going to have a hard and bitter fight on the Senate floor next week to prevent drastic cuts."

Set For Wednesday

"And we'll face another fight on an amendment to shut off all aid to Yugoslavia immediately," he said.

"I think we can defeat this and retain most of the money in the bill, but the opposition is potent," Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) said he will call the bill up in the Senate next Wednesday.

Given Reassurance

Hayden said the committee voted down efforts by Republican Sens. Knowland (Calif.), Bridges (N.H.) and McCarthy (Wis.) to shut off or restrict aid to Yugoslavia. They disclosed that Yugoslavian Ambassador Leo Mates appeared before a secret session of the committee for questioning on his country's latest friendly gestures toward Russia. He presumably reassured most members.

In the end the committee left it up to the discretion of President Eisenhower whether to continue aid to Yugoslavia unless he considers it in the interest of United States security and finds that that country is not engaged in any Communist plot with Soviet Russia to seek red domination of the world.

TWO LEADING 23 ENTRIES IN BEAUTY CONTEST

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A shapely blonde and a pert brunette from opposite parts of the state were leaders at the halfway mark of the 1956 Miss Pennsylvania Pageant which concludes here tonight.

Lorna M. Ringler, 18, Miss Delaware County, won the bathing suit competition last night while Patricia Lee Ginglard, 20, Miss Mon Valley, from Belle Vernon, won the talent division.

Miss Ginglard sang "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly" to win in her competition. The blonde Miss Ringler, from Upper Darby, paraded her five-foot six-inch frame (36-25-36) to win in the bathing suit division.

23 Are Entered

The 23 entries were split into the two divisions last night and tonight they will change their categories for final judging.

Only the winners in each division were announced, leaving the relative positions of the other girls in doubt until the final standings are announced.

The judging also includes the evening gown division and the selection of a Miss Congeniality by the participants. The evening gown competition was held last night but no results were announced. Miss Congeniality will be chosen today.

The winner will succeed Pat Ulrich of Reading as Miss Pennsylvania. She will compete in the Miss America finals at Atlantic City, N.J.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR KIDNAPER

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—The hunt for the kidnaper of little Peter Weinberger continued today.

Police officials made plans to drain rainwater impounding basins in this Long Island community where the child was snatched 10 days ago.

They felt a drain basin might conceal the body of the 6-week-old baby, or perhaps yield some clue. The FBI, following long tradition, gave no information on its activities. The FBI has been in the case officially three days.

David Holman, uncle of the mother, Mrs. Morris Weinberger, said "the parents are willing to pay anything, even if it means giving up everything they own."

But he added the parents feel it is no longer a question of money, that the kidnaper is too frightened to return the child.

M. Cline, Greenstone, were weekend visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger and son, Daniel, Mrs. Edna Snider, Mr. and Mrs. John Ridinger and son, John Henry, visited their aunt, Mrs. Ida Landis, at the Sherwood Home, Hagerstown, Sunday.

said one-mile visibility and a 2,000 foot ceiling — 500 feet in spots — prevailed.

Was Going 175 MPH
Col. Williams said that at the time of the crash the plane normally would have been 500 to 700 feet high and traveling about 175 miles an hour.

Lt. Col. Horace W. Doty, an Army physician, quoted Airman Albert J. Buck as saying the ship hit an air pocket. Buck suffered a fractured ankle.

The first word of the disaster came from a passenger found by military police as he wandered down a road a mile from the crash. He was Pvt. Thomas F. Kiley of Lawrence, Mass., one of the injured.

43 Died On Plane
Foot soldiers used axes, entrenching tools and other gear to pack their way through the pine swamp to the scene, wading in knee deep water. Trees were felled to build a log road over the muck.

Buildings cleared a path for doctors, nurses and ambulances. The rescue teams included 46 military ambulances and a half dozen manned by first aid squads from nearby communities.

Brig. Gen. Lloyd Moses, deputy Ft. Dix commander, pitched in as a litter carrier.

McGuire officials said 43 died aboard the plane and two others at Ft. Dix hospital.

Engineer Survives
The only crew member to survive was the flight engineer.
Lt. Col. Pedro M. Souza, an Army doctor, said most of the victims still had their safety belts fastened and died in their seats of fractures. Only six were thrown clear.

The plane, known as a Douglas Liftmaster, was equipped with seats which face towards the rear. It was the first fatal accident the Military Air Transport Service has experienced in five years of operating that type craft.

No Interviews Allowed
Four chaplains of all faiths were kept busy during the night, phoning next of kin and sending telegrams.

Newsmen were not allowed to interview survivors at the base hospital here.
The McGuire base was dedicated formally last Sept. 10 and described at the time as destined to become one of the world's greatest international airports.

is to have people in every city, borough, town, village and township within the state "tune in" during the July 20 Conrad test. Based on simple, written reports filed by listeners throughout the Commonwealth, it subsequently will be possible to determine whether or not Conrad provides all Pennsylvanians with an effective source of emergency information and instructions.

Those desiring to participate in "Project Tune In" will find a handy "cut out" report form in The Times next week. This form will provide space for listing the location of each individual's "listening post," the type of receiver used and the general effectiveness, or quality, of broadcast reception. Project reports may be filed on postal cards, or in letters, addressed to: "Project Tune In," State Council of Civil Defense, Main Capitol Building, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

For home protection, each Pennsylvania family should assign one of its members definite responsibility for "tuning in" and reporting on next week's nationwide Conrad test. Some of those serving as monitors should use ordinary "plug-in" receivers, others should try battery-operated units in household shelters, while still others should use their automobile radios.

Only by active participation in "Project Tune In" can a person be assured of his ability to hear emergency information and instructions broadcast for his family's and his personal safety.

WET WEATHER PERILS PEACHES; SPRAYS URGED

More than the usual number of brown rot twig cankers are present, County Agent Frank S. Zettie said today in calling for the pre-harvest spray in peach orchards.

"Wet weather could enable brown rot to cause heavy loss unless spray protection is maintained," Zettie said, adding, "Oriental fruit moth is also present in many orchards. Mites are present in some orchards and Japanese beetles may also attack early ripening peaches. All varieties should be sprayed 20 to 25 days before harvest."

Per 100 gallons of dilute spray either two pounds of a 50 per cent wettable powder Captan or six pounds of dry wettable sulphur should be used, plus two pounds of a 50 per cent wettable powder methoxychlor. For concentrate sprays the amounts of the materials should be tripled.

Fifth Cover For Apples
The county agent added that where mites or leafrollers are present, a 15 per cent wettable powder parathion should be used, one pound dilute, three pounds for a concentrate spray, in place of the methoxychlor. Parathion may not be applied closer than 21 days before harvest.

Calling for the fifth cover spray for apple orchards, Zettie noted that "some codling moth larvae are still entering apples. Second generation adults are also appearing."

"Both European and spotted mites are present in most orchards and can increase rapidly in hot weather. Japanese beetle are present in some orchards and wet weather has enabled it to increase rapidly. Sooty fungus and fruit rots are serious threats."

Suggest Two Formulas
Two formulas are suggested. For dilute sprays formula one calls for one pound of a 50 per cent wettable powder captan, one pound of a 65 per cent wettable powder zineb.

Will Hold Club Fair Next Week

A 4-H Club Fair to be held next Wednesday and Thursday at the Carroll County Agricultural Center, Westminster, was discussed at a meeting of the Taneytown Junior 4-H Club recently in the Taneytown Grain and Supply Company build-two pounds of a 50 per cent wettable powder DDT and two pounds of Aramite 15-W. For concentrate sprays the materials should be tripled.

The second formula calls for use of 1 1/2 pounds for dilute, 4 1/2 pounds for concentrate, of a 75 per cent wettable powder Ferbam, plus DDT and Aramite in the proportions listed in formula one.

On early varieties of apples interplanted with peaches a 50 per cent wettable powder methoxychlor should be used instead of the DDT to avoid a residue problem. The methoxychlor should be used two pounds for dilute and six pounds for concentrate sprays.

Zettie also called for use of six pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder DDT per 100 gallons of water for peach tree borer control. The first application for the borer control should be completed by July 25.

TEN YEARS AGO

House Designates Nov. 19 As Dedication Day In U.S.: Under provisions of a bill passed by the House in Washington this week, November 19, 1946, will be observed throughout the nation as Dedication Day.

A joint resolution adopted by the House directs the President to proclaim November 19 as Dedication Day and to suggest that the address be read in public assemblies "throughout the United States and its possessions, on our ships at sea and wherever the American flag flies."

Officially titled "A Bill Designating November 19, 1946, the anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, as Dedication Day," the measure was identified as House Joint Resolution 35 and follows in full:

"Whereas the Gettysburg Address of President Abraham Lincoln is the outstanding classic of the ages; and

"Whereas it will touch the hearts of men and inspire them with faith in our matchless democracy as long as time endures; and

"Whereas in that address Mr. Lincoln adjured his fellow countrymen to dedicate themselves to the principles of democracy in order that government 'of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.'"

"Therefore be it Resolved, etc. That November 19, 1946, the anniversary of the Gettysburg address, be, and hereby is, designated in our calendar of special days as Dedication Day.

"That the President of the United States is requested to proclaim November 19, 1946, as Dedication Day and to suggest that the address be read on that day in public assemblies throughout the United States and its possessions, on our ships at sea and wherever the American flag flies."

Dr. A. R. Wentz Sails Saturday For World Meeting: Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, in company with other American churchmen, sailed Saturday from New York city aboard the Gripsholm for Gothenburg, Sweden, to attend a three-day session of the Lutheran World Convention executive committee at Uppsala, Sweden, July 24, 25 and 26.

Dr. Wentz will present to the committee for consideration a proposed constitution for the convention. The document was in process of preparation when World War II broke out and interrupted plans to perfect organization of the agency.

Miss Guise And Harold Street Wed Saturday: Miss Mary Louise Guise, Arendtsville, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Guise, and Harold Raymond Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner Street, Stewartstown, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Lutheran Church, Arendtsville.

County Boards Sent 3,746 Men Into U.S. Forces: Adams county's two draft boards sent 3,746 men into service with the armed forces from October 16, 1940, date of the establishment of the Selective Service system, until July 1, according to reports given today by the town boards. As of July 1, 2,986 had been discharged. New Oxford's board listed 1,981 men sent into the various branches of the armed forces during the period, of which 1,632 have been discharged. The board has records of 21 women from that section who entered the Wacs, Waves and Marine Corps. Gettysburg draft board sent 1,765 men into service with the Army, Navy and Marines during the nearly six-year period. Since that time 1,354 men have been separated as of July 1.

Today's Talk

COMPANIONSHIP OF BOOKS
There are few things so important and inspiring as an early habit of making the companionship of books an outstanding one. Said Thomas Carlyle: "Great men taken up in any way are profitable company." His book, "Heroes and Hero Worship" is a world classic. The more we know about great characters the nearer we get to them.

If an early love of books and reading is cultivated, in later life that companionship will grow more precious and intimate. There is something immortal in the thoughts and expressions in great books. You can take them with you, or keep them close to you in your home. They await your pleasure and invitation.

Dr. Samuel Johnson once remarked that "A man will turn over half a library to make one book." It took Margaret Mitchell ten years to write her book "Gone With the Wind." Over 9,000,000 copies have been sold to date! How immortal are the plays of Shakespeare! One of my prized books is that one by Marcus Aurelius, the good Roman Emperor. Though written several hundred years ago, it is still alive and filled with comforting thoughts.

As we grow older our companionship with friends grows less, for so many of the early ones are taken from us, but books once selected may stay with us for so long as we live, and then be passed on to other lovers of the written word. I have books, for example, that once belonged to Eugene Field, Lafcadio Hearn, Jack London, and a multitude of others. Books as such never grow old. Nothing lasts so long, constantly giving out their thoughts.

I have a collection of intimate books that have been like perpetual companions. Soon I plan to place them in the college in Kansas, where I graduated, and where in their new library they will be available for students to love as I have loved them.

He wishes he were the other chap And had another's work to do. He knew if he had such a snap He could be rich and famous, too.

He wished that it had been his lot To fill the station held by Brown, Especially as Brown is not Entitled to so much redoubt.

And had it been his luck to be Appointed to the place of Green, His very marked ability Would very quickly have been seen.

And does it not seem strange to you That one so willful and so keen Should keep, in what he has to do, His cleverness from being seen?

IKE'S FAST TALK ON DIXON-YATES IS BACKFIRING

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower—getting his information from aides—said too much too fast about the Dixon-Yates contract. He stuck his neck out, and now he's had it chopped off. He had praised the contract repeatedly. Now his Justice Department says it was no good. He defended the role of banker Adolph Wenzell in this contract. Now the Justice Department says Wenzell's role makes the contract "null and void."

Right in its early days the Eisenhower administration faced a problem—and a choice—in the government's Tennessee Valley Authority, which supplies a wide Southern area with power.

Could Have Expanded
The Atomic Energy Commission needed a lot of that power. But what of the needs of TVA's regular users, particularly the city of Memphis, Tenn.? The administration could have expanded TVA with new plants.

Instead, on the advice of the AEC and the Budget Bureau, it decided a private power firm should do the job by building a plant near the TVA area. Democrats protested, predicting this meant eventual wreckage of TVA.

In November 1954 Eisenhower ordered a contract signed with a private utility group called Dixon-Yates. Then the Democrats began to dig into the role of Wenzell. He was vice president of the First Boston Corp. of New York City, which became the Dixon-Yates financial agent, and had also been adviser to the Budget Bureau on TVA problems.

Private Interests
The Democrats raised a question: Was Wenzell serving conflicting interests — the government's and a private company's? The Democrats talked of "deceit and concealment" by the administration.

Eisenhower, still listening to his advisers, defended Wenzell at a news conference June 29, 1955. But the next day he ordered the whole problem restudied.

The reason given was that the city of Memphis, refusing to accept Dixon-Yates power, said it was going to build its own plant. At his July 6 news conference Eisenhower again backed Wenzell, calling his role in the contract "indeed" proper.

Then these things happened: July 7 — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), foreseeing the end of the contract, said it was invalid anyway and advised the government to hold up any cancellation fees which Dixon-Yates might claim in return for money spent preparing to build its plant.

Meets AEC Officials
July 8 — Wenzell told Kefauver's subcommittee that while he was advising the Budget Bureau on TVA matters he met with AEC officials as a representative of his bank—what became the Dixon-Yates financial agent—while the contract was under consideration.

Eisenhower canceled the contract July 11 on the grounds that, since Memphis was building its own plant, the Dixon-Yates plant was not needed.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said he looked for a "negotiated settlement" of any claims Dixon-Yates might make. And on July 12 Eisenhower called the canceled contract "good and fair."

Then on Nov. 23, 1955, the AEC said it would pay Dixon-Yates nothing for the money it had spent. The AEC said Wenzell had been mixed up in a conflict of interests in this contract.

One-Sided Contract
Last Dec. 13 Dixon-Yates sued the government for $3,534,778 for its expenses. Yesterday Brownell's Justice Department, defending the government against this suit in the Court of Claims, said the contract was one-sided in favor of Dixon-Yates and had other faults. But it asked the judge to dismiss the suit mainly because of Wenzell.

It said he had played a triple role: he was advising and representing the government, his own bank and the Dixon-Yates group. That left Eisenhower high and dry on a rock.

REVENUE MEN PERSIST IN TAX, SECURITY PUSH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Internal Revenue service intends to continue its drive to collect social security and withholding taxes from business firms in eastern Pennsylvania, District Supervisor Charles E. Dorfmann said Friday.

"We expect to make some more seizures in a week or two if taxes aren't paid up," he said.

More than 40 Internal Revenue agents padlocked business firms and seized assets to satisfy tax liens Thursday. Dorfmann says the payments are due the government for the last quarter of 1955, and the first quarter of 1956.

Dorfmann said his agents made a total of 50 seizures and collections Thursday and Thursday night to satisfy $150,000 owed the government. He said his men seized nine automobiles in Philadelphia Thursday night, but their owners all paid immediately. The department collected $25,000 from the car owners.

Communities Included
Communities included in the drive were Allentown, Chester, Norristown, Upper Darby, Altoona, Lancaster, York, Harrisburg, Reading and Philadelphia.

Dorfmann said he was glad the Internal Revenue service wouldn't have to hold a cattle sale. His men had hauled away 20 cows from a Media farmer and were planning to auction them off for taxes. However, their owner paid $985 Thursday night and got his cattle back.

The agents had grabbed 20 of the farmer's stock of 23. They didn't run in two bulls and one cow.

Phillies Drop Redlegs Into 2nd Place As Adcock Leads Braves To Win Over Brooks; Yankees Win

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

You think you have problems? Man, take a look at Brooklyn's pool of world champions trying to figure out what not to throw Joe Adcock.

The big guy from Coughatta, La., continued his gunning last night, parking a two-run homer and a grand-slam shot out of sight while driving in seven runs as the Milwaukee Braves reclaimed the National League lead with an 8-6 and 6-5 two-night doubleheader sweep against the third place Brooks.

The 28-year-old husky has walked 15 home runs this season and seven of them have come against the Dodgers.

Three Games, Three Homers
In the first three games of the four-game set at Milwaukee's County Stadium, Adcock has poked three home runs. Each was instrumental in helping the Braves snap their home park jinx with a three-game winning streak that has given them a 5-3 record on the current home stand. The last time the Braves were home, they were 5-10 and lost first place.

They grabbed the gold ring again last night as the Philadelphia Phillies made it two straight over Cincinnati, tumbling the Redlegs to second 6-4. The St. Louis Cardinals rallied to beat the New York Giants 7-5 and the Chicago Cubs came from behind to knock Pittsburgh back to fifth 7-6.

Yanks Win Again
In the American League "race", Tom Sturdivant again beat Cleveland with a two-hitter (he did it June 16, too) while Bill Skowron drove in four runs with a single and home run in a 10-0 New York frolic that gave the Yankees an 8-game lead — their best since 1933. It was their seventh straight success and sixth in a row over the Indians.

Chicago's White Sox lost their fifth straight, but stayed two points ahead of the third place Tribe, in a 3-4 defeat at Boston. It was the Red Sox' fifth victory in a row and put them within two games of the Chicago and Indians. Washington outlasted Detroit 12-11. Kansas City beat Baltimore 3-2.

The Braves smacked Don Newcombe for six runs in the first inning of the opener on six hits — including Adcock's two-run 14th homer. They blew that lead, however, and had to hustle back to break a tie against reliever Clem Labine on Billy Bruton's seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Ernie Johnson won in relief.

Grand Slam Shot
In the nightcap, the Dodgers scored four in the first off Lew Burdette. Adcock drove in a second-inning run with a single, then got off his grand-slam shot for a 6-4 edge. Jackie Robinson squared it with an eighth-inning homer; but the Braves got the clincher home against reliever Ken Lehman on Danny O'Connell's sacrifice fly in their eighth for Burdette's 10th victory.

The Phillies broke a 4-all tie in the eighth with three singles and an error to knock over the Redlegs. Curt Simmons, who went all the way for his fourth victory, brought the winning run home. Stan Lopata and Gran Hamner homered off Brooks Lawrence, who remained unbeaten as reliever Tom Acker took the defeat. Gabe Bell had a three-run homer for the Redlegs.

Cards 4th Again
St. Louis moved back into fourth on Al Dark's two-run double in the eighth against his former mates. Dark and Don Blasingame each had four hits for the Cards. Jackie Collum won it in relief. Both clubs protested the game after a fifth-inning rubebarb in which umpires Art Gore and Shag Crawford differed on the decision when Giant outfielder Hank Thompson trapped a ball.

The Cubs tagged All-Star winner Bob Friend for 15 hits and his fifth straight loss. Two runs in the seventh did it, with a single by Ernie Banks getting the job done. Banks tied Al Simmons' major league mark with his 394th consecutive game since breaking in as a rookie.

Brooklyn Dodger first baseman Gil Hodges is the "sacrifice fly champion" of the National League. He has led the league in that department for the past two years.

NASHUA HEAVY FAVORITE TODAY AT MONMOUTH

By JOHN CHANDLER

OCEANPORT, N.J. (P)—Nashua is expected to rule a prohibitive favorite at about 2-5 when he parades postward to oppose eight rivals today in the $100,000 Monmouth Park Handicap.

A top-drawing card wherever he races, the handsome and unpredictable Mr. Millions will be making his first appearance at this seaside course in the richest race in Monmouth Park's history.

The 4-year-old bay, winner of 20 of his 27 starts in three seasons of campaigning, must concede plenty of weight in the mile and one quarter event. He carries 129 pounds, one more than when he captured the Suburban Handicap July 4, and gives away from 18 to 24 pounds to his rivals here.

Needles Declined

When Kentucky Derby winner Needles, Find, Summer Tan, Jet Action, Fisherman and others declined with thanks to meet Leslie B. Combs' syndicate colt, it left a 4-year-old filly second high weight at 111 pounds. She is Manotick, C. T. Chenery's stakes winner who likes the longer routes, and was second in the recent Delaware Handicap.

Second choice is expected to be Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Markus' Mielieu, with 107 pounds. Mielieu, copped the Appleton Handicap, and finished second to Sailor in the Gulfstream Handicap last March when Nashua finished a surprising fifth. Then in the Camden Handicap May 19 when Nashua surpassed Citation as the world's biggest money winner, Mielieu was third.

Mielieu, to be ridden by Logan Batcheller, is 4-1, and Manotick, with Sammy Boulmetis up, was 5-1 in the early odds.

Rounding out the field are the Valley Farm's Mr. First, 108; Joseph M. Roebings' Cedar Hill, 107; The Ruffalo Brothers' Flying Chief, 107; and the Chal-Mar Farm's Seven Chances, 106.

Young Pro Is 8 Under Par

BOISCHATEL, Que. (P)—A likeable, 25-year-old golfer, just starting his second year on the pro trail, today led a par-wrecking field into the third round of the fourth annual $26,800 open golf tournament.

After scoring his second straight 68 yesterday, Bill Casper Jr., of San Diego, Calif., said he likes Royal Quebec's par 72 course.

His halfway total of 136, eight under par, gave him a one-stroke working margin as the third round got under way. Play ends Sunday.

Casper came in late Friday to steal the lead from Ted Kroil of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and the veteran Jimmy Demaret of Klamath Lake, N.Y.

Kroil, who went fishing after posting a second-round 69, and Demaret were tied at 137.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dick Saunders of the Birmingham Triplets has built up the biggest lead in the fan voting for the Eastern League All-Star team.

He has a 27-vote edge over Fred Koenig of the Allentown Redbirds for the third base slot on the team that will meet the first-place Schenectady Blue Jays July 23 at Schenectady.

Saunders demonstrated some of his hitting power last night as he drove in two runs with a bases-loaded double as the Triplets downed the Reading Indians 6-0. It was the league's only game. Two other scheduled contests were rained out.

WEIGHT, JINX AGAINST SWAPS

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (P)—The heavily backed Swaps faced a threatening field and something of a jinx today in the $100,000-added Hollywood Gold Cup Handicap.

This was the 17th running of the Gold Cup and only three times before had the high weight in the field won the guaranteed hundred grand.

The successful three were Seabiscuit, with 133 pounds aboard, in 1938; Chaldean, 133, in 1940, and Noor, 130, in 1950.

Swaps carried 130 pounds to the post, spotting the opposition from 7 to 24 pounds.

Today's mile and one quarter distance was the first at this route this year for Swaps. He won the Kentucky Derby last year at this distance in 2:01 4-5, and the Westerner, Hollywood's version of the Derby, in 2:00 3-5.

The last time Swaps went a mile and a quarter was in the matinee race with Nashua at Chicago. Swaps reigned his right front foot that afternoon during the race and Nashua won by 6½ lengths.

The time was 2:04 1/4.

Four Cobles, Children Of Mr. And Mrs. Garnet N. Coble, Are Active Members Of Aspers 4-H Club

It is fairly simple to keep track of the four Coble youngsters — all one has to do is find out where there's a band or choir or Sunday School or athletic event or 4-H activity going on and they're most likely to be there.

The Coble family was selected by the Adams County farm agents as this week's representatives of the 4-H members in the county.

First off all four of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet N. Coble, Sr., Aspers, are members of the Aspers Community 4-H Club. That club came into existence because Mr. and Mrs. Coble thought there ought to be something in the area for the youngsters — their own and others.

Mrs. Coble, having joined in that statement, found she was immediately the one and only candidate for the post of local leader — which she has filled well since the Aspers club was formed four years ago.

Farms And Hints

Mr. Coble is the only one of his family not directly connected with 4-H activities, but he seems to have a lot of fun watching his wife and youngsters in their various endeavors. He also enjoys farming and hunting — more recently with bow and arrow.

The entire family seems to take great delight in whatever any of the others is doing — and there are plenty of activities for everybody to enjoy.

The day a Times reporter visited the Coble family the big event was a rendition by son, Parker, on an old type tuba, which he, and the family, had purchased for $4.50 at the "Jake" Routsong sale at Bendersville. The tuba had been played by the late Mr. Routsong in the old Bendersville Citizens Band. There were estimates that it might have been in use 50 or more years ago. There were many comments on how well it had been cleaned up, and on how well Parker could play the instrument.

Musicians, Athletes

The family might be the envy of others — its members can almost form a band by themselves, they can make up a choir almost any time, they have innumerable projects, they have a farm to help tend, there is even a high jump put up by the track minded boys. To add to the excitement, the day a reporter visited them, a huge limb from a tree in front of the house had blown down, the wiring was down, the high jump had toppled the night before, Mrs. Coble was having trouble with poison ivy — and everyone seemed to be having a "wonderful" time.

Marie Elizabeth Coble, 15, is in her sixth year as a member of 4-H. She has been a member of the Biglerville and Idaville 4-H Home Economics Club, the Aspers Community Club, in which her projects are gardens and flowers; the Adams County 4-H Conservation Club, which is taking up forestry this year. She was song-leader for both the Idaville and Aspers clubs, is secretary-treasurer of the conservation club.

In Choir And Band

A sophomore at Biglerville High School, Marie is a member of the choir at school, a member of the B-club, a member of the band (she plays flute, piano and pipe organ) and is assistant organist at Aspers' Christ Lutheran Church, teaches the kindergarten class in Sunday School, assists the pianist for the Sunday School and also sings in the choir at the church.

and is a Camp Nawakwa attendant. Garnet Jr., 17, has graduated from Biglerville High School and also from Camp Nawakwa. He plans to study physical education at Gettysburg College next fall. He is president of the Aspers Community 4-H Club, and has also been its vice president and game leader. He was president of the conservation club of the county last year and is its game leader this year, has been game leader for the county 4-H council, and attended Camp Kanassake, the 4-H leadership camp, two years.

Active In School

At high school Garnet played basketball, was on the track team, a member of the B-club, the band, in which he played trombone, the boys octet, in which he sang tenor, and the choir in which he sang bass. He played guard on the basketball team, went in for the pole vault and half-mile in track, and built the pole vaulting frame which he uses for practice at home. He was also a reporter on the B-H Times, high school newspaper, and is secretary of the Sunday School at Christ Lutheran Church in Aspers.

Parker C. Coble, 16, a junior at Biglerville High School, has been a member of the Aspers, Conservation and County Council units of 4-H. He is currently president of the Aspers club, in which he formerly was game leader (the brothers traded positions in the club) and was president of the County 4-H Council last year. His 4-H projects include a sow and litter, garden, tomatoes, field corn, sweet corn and strawberries.

Member Of FFA

At School he is a member of the Biglerville Future Farmers of America, is a chapter farmer and assistant secretary of the FFA, hopes he may win the coveted Keystone Farmer award, and has eight projects, sow and litter, garden, tomatoes, field corn, sweet corn and strawberries, plus potatoes and chickens.

Athletically inclined, he plays football, basketball and track at school, specializing in the high jump, half mile and mile, and plays the bass horn (and hopes to play his "new" tuba) in the Biglerville High School band and the Gettysburg Blue and Gray band. He also sings in the choir at Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers, and is an assistant teacher in the Sunday School, and is a Camp Nawakwa attendant.

Additional 4-H work carried on by Garnet Coble includes attendance in the 4-H leadership school at Penn State.

Active Eighth Grader

He also was a member of the FFA agronomy team at Penn State last year and the livestock team two years ago.

Edna Jane Coble, 12, the "baby" of the family, is a member of the Biglerville, Idaville, Aspers and the Conservation clubs. She has flowers and a garden as her projects in the Aspers club, learned outdoor cookery in the Biglerville club, lunches in the Idaville club and forestry with the conservation club.

Naturally, as a member of her family, she is musically inclined. At Biglerville where she is in the eighth grade, she plays saxophone in the Junior band, sings soprano in the Junior chorus; is treasurer of the Junior Dramatics club and took part last year in a play ("She got kissed in the play, too," her brothers announced teasingly), she is vice president of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y and is interested in athletics, and, like the others, is a Camp Nawakwa and a Sunday School attendant.

Mother Is Busy

Being a farm wife and mother of four extremely healthy and active children has been just a starter for Mrs. Coble. She also is local leader for the Aspers 4-H Club, teaches school at Idaville and is a Sunday School teacher for the Young Married Couples class at Christ Lutheran Church in Aspers.

Mrs. Coble also has another duty — keeping up with the schedule of activities for her youngsters. She confesses that "some days we have a schedule that would rival that of a railroad just keeping track of where everybody is and will be."

The first president of the United States was John Hanson under the Articles of Confederation, not George Washington, says the National Geographic Society.

Good Planning Makes Work In House Easier

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

Is there a shortcut to housework? Yes, if you'll just give it some thought.

Three ways to make life easier on the domestic front are often overlooked:

1. Keep your eyes open when you shop so that you don't overlook new products that simplify life. Try out new ones as you go along.
2. Use good serviceable equipment. Don't try to make one brush or polish do everything.
3. Learn to use your vacuum cleaner to get the most out of it. You can leave a room sparkling in less than an hour with windows clean, moldings, lamp shades, bibelots dusted, upholstery washed and room completely vacuumed if you'll just find a system.

Good Work Plan

Chocolate milk spilled by the baby, hors d'oeuvre ground into the upholstery and table top stickiness may all be removed easily with a good work plan. Here's one that may help you formulate yours:

1. Pin up draperies from floor.
2. Apply window cleaner to windows, wax to table tops.
3. Pull furniture away from the wall to center of floor.
4. Wheel your vacuum cleaner in with the attachments. Put on the small round brush. Run it around moldings, windows, lampshades and in ash trays.
5. Take pail of water and detergent and a sponge (the large cellulose kind is easy to use). Remove pencil marks, and other spots from walls, moldings with the sponge.
6. Clean upholstery with attachments using the long sucking-type gadget in corners.
7. If you haven't tried an upholstery cleaner you are in for a treat. The newest one I've found is easiest to use. You just mix eight parts water to one part of the blue liquid and using the brush that comes with the product, make large circles all over chairs and sofas. (It may be used on rugs also.) It doesn't need to be wiped off. Where the dirt goes I don't know. But you'll be amazed at how your fabrics come to life. I have tried it on yellow nylon velvet, wool and metallic fabric, bark cloth, damask, and a nubby wool.

After vacuuming wall floor areas, put your furniture back in place unless you are ambitious enough to shampoo your rug. This is a Something's cooking in the new kitchens. If you have marveled at copper clad ovens built in the wall, separate top burners scattered around where they'll be most convenient for breakfast making or dinner preparation, you've seen nothing yet. New electronic stoves are now being made to sell from $1,000 to $1,200.

They have a new system of microwave speed cooking that will bake a potato in 4 minutes instead of 30. It will roast a turkey in 3 minutes per pound instead of the usual 20 minutes per pound; rib roast of beef in 4 minutes per pound, not 20 to 30. It will broil a steak in 50 seconds rather than the 10 minutes or so you'd allow.

There's nothing dreamy about this kind of cooking. One company, inspired by the wonders of radar, started to make this kind of stove for restaurants and hotels three years ago and sold commercial models for close to $3,000. Of course, it's going to take a little time for mass production to get the prices down, but like color television, you'll probably have this convenience someday if you want it bad enough. These stoves, among others, were seen in operation at the International Home Exposition in New York's new Coliseum in May.

New Vertical Broiler

More realistic is a new electric kitchen range now on the market with an automatic broiling unit, what works like a toaster. Your steak or chops are held between vertical racks. You set a dial for the way you like things, all the way from rare to well done, close the stove door and the rest is automatic.

This machine is more within the reach of some budgets, being included in a 36-inch stove with a suggested retail price of around simple job these days if you are in the mood. Personally, I think it is a job for one day by itself.

I have tried one floor shampoo, a mixture of 3 parts powder, 1 part water, on a cotton rug very successfully. Cotton which becomes dirty and matted from wear is difficult to clean but the rug shampoo did a lovely job leaving the black and white rug bright.

If you do clean your rug, remove as much dirt as possible with the vacuum cleaner first.

Keep Sunlight Out To Keep House Cool

The importance of shading windows from direct sunlight when you want to keep a house cool in summer is demonstrated by the experience of engineers in air conditioning skyscrapers.

"For every 100 square feet of unshaded, unfavorably oriented glass in tall buildings," these experts say, "about one ton of air conditioning must be provided."

This quote is from the Mechanical Contractor, official bulletin of the Heating, Piping and Air Conditioning Contractors National Assn. A ton of air conditioning means the equivalent of cooling provided by a ton of ice and 100 an area 10 by 10 feet.

The toughness and durability of Plax-Cote was established by the above pictured tests. In the scrubbing test Plax-Cote's beauty endured long after other finishes had failed! Actual scuffing tests on many porch floors proved Plax-Cote's ability to withstand extra hard wear and abuse.

Like all transistor portables, it works on batteries which cost about $3 for two years' use. Its 9-inch oval speaker is larger than that in the average television set.

"My son and I have used DITHANE Z-78 to produce high quality fruit with good finish."

ALFRED L. SNAPP, SR.
Winchester, Va.

"My son and I have used DITHANE Z-78 on Golden Delicious, Red Delicious, Jonathan and Stayman for the past three years with very good disease control; enabling us to produce high quality fruit with good finish."

DITHANE puts the "finishing touch" on apples

DITHANE Z-78 (zineb) is officially recommended to apple growers for late cover sprays.

The experiment stations of Delaware Maryland Pennsylvania West Virginia Virginia include DITHANE Z-78 (zineb) in all their apple sp. / schedules for summer diseases.

Last year summer diseases of apples were quite severe, and in many cases the fungicide used did not give satisfactory control. This is a matter of record—and one reason for the revised recommendation for 1956.

DITHANE Z-78 controls Brooks spot, apple blotch, sooty blotch, bitter rot, Botryospheria rot, and black rot. It also gives effective protection against fly speck DITHANE is a trade-mark, Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. and in principal foreign countries.

RHOTHANE FOR SECOND BROOD

One or two sprays of RHOTHANE (TDE) can help rid your orchard of the second brood of red-banded leaf roller. Just add it to late cover sprays.

and secondary scab. DITHANE Z-78 does all this without harming the fruit finish when used as recommended. And the foliage grows particularly luxuriant and green.

Isn't it good sense to profit by this experience? When the official spray schedule calls for zineb, it will pay you to ask your dealer for DITHANE Z-78—the original zineb formulation, relied on for years in many orchards of the Shenandoah-Cumberland apple areas.

BUILDING AND REFR

Introduce New Fixtures With Practical Note

If you're one of those skeptics who thinks there's nothing new under the sun, then take a look at this list recently introduced to the public by the plumbing industry:

One-piece toilet with virtually silent flushing actions and built-in overflow outlets which protect bathroom in event of a stoppage.

Non-sweat flush tanks which will not collect moisture or drip water on the floor no matter how hot the weather or how high the humidity.

For Bed Or Bath
Countertop lavatories built into dresser-type cabinets which are available in many different color combinations and designs for installation in either bathroom or bedroom.

Shelf-back lavatories with ledge space for toilet articles above new combination fittings which temper hot and cold water through mixing to suit the user's needs. Slab-type lavatories, with or without pedestals, which offer plenty of attractive flat space for placement of toilet articles while the fixture is in use.

Small bathtub-shower receptor combinations designed to economize on floor space but still allow sufficient area for bathing.

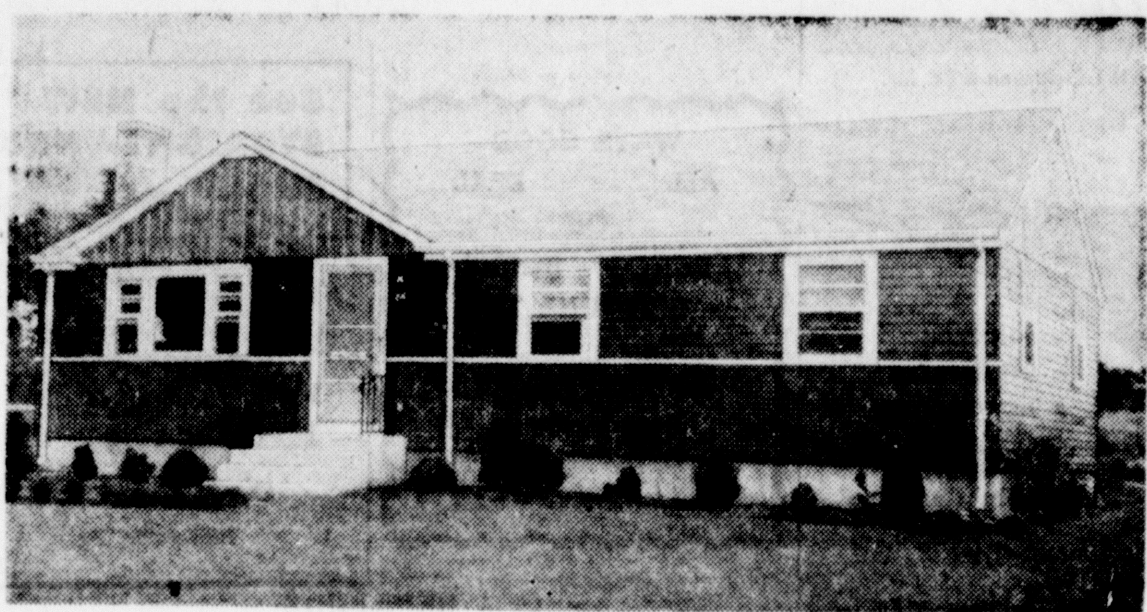

Relieve Congestion
Dental lavatories designed solely for use in oral hygiene. Economical and compact in size, dental lavatories help relieve congestion without creating a space problem even in the smallest of bathrooms.

All household plumbing fixtures are now available in a variety of matching colors, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau reports. Most popular are the pastel shades, including pink, gray, green, yellow and blue. All colored fixtures are acid-resistant and do not stain when subjected to ordinary household chemicals.

DON'T DELAY

As soon as a painting session is finished, always clean your brush, roller or spray gun thoroughly with the proper solvent.

"The Bilado" Is Comfortable And Spacious

Is Carefully Planned For Easy Living

"The Bilado," offered today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, is a comfortable one-story house that contains six good-sized rooms. Measuring 45 by 34 feet the house has a cubage of 26,400 feet. Thus, you can build this house on approximately a 65-foot lot. No garage is provided for in the accompanying plan but if you plan to build one either at the time the house is constructed or at some later date you should obtain about an 85-foot lot.

Finish

Just about any type of finish can be used on a house of this type. Multi-colored asphalt shingles can be used to good advantage, especially if you decide upon a shingled or clapboarded exterior. Inside, this house is carefully planned to make living as comfortable as possible, and, also, to make taking care of the house as easy as possible.

Living Room

The front door opens directly into the living room, but in the right part of the room so that it is not necessary to walk through the center of the room to reach the central hallway connecting with the other rooms.

Most spacious of the rooms, the living room is designed to be a social center for family and friends. And, since there is a dining room provided for in this plan the living room can be made into a true family gathering spot. Built-in bookshelves are suggested and there is ample space for your television set and record player.

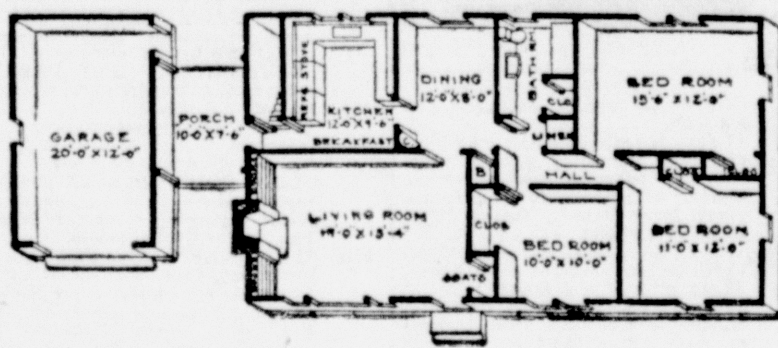

Three bedrooms are included in this plan. Each of these rooms features excellent lighting and ventilation. A generous amount of closet space is available, also.

Kitchen

The dining room opens directly off the kitchen so that serving meals there presents no problems. In the kitchen there is a cozy breakfast nook.

All appliances, counters, cupboards etc. are placed within easy reach in the all modern kitchen. Double windows provide good light and give added pleasantness to the kitchen.

Stairs to the cellar lead down from the central hallway just to the left of the kitchen. Since no space is allotted on the first floor for the laundry you'll have to place your

Future Tillage Methods As Experts See Them

What tillage methods can you look for next year and in the coming 10 years? What ought you to plan for? CROPS & SOILS asked farm leaders to tell what they see and have to say. A few of their comments follow.

Jamison of Alabama says that with better chemical methods, plowing to run weed seeds under will be less important. Preparation may include little more than mowing to cut down large weeds and trash and spraying with weed-killing chemicals.

Willard of Ohio looks to "once-over" systems of different kinds being effective and used in preparing land for corn, at a saving in labor and no reduction in yield. He looks for no difference in the average depth of plowing.

Thorne of Utah thinks future tillage practices will work toward greater efficiency. Many useless and expensive tillage operations, such as excessive harrowing during seedbed preparation and unnecessary cultivation of row crops, will be discontinued.

Work Periods

Duffee says the pressure in Wisconsin is to get more work done in a given period of time. Farmers are moving in this direction. In 1940, about half of the corn was checked and the other half drilled. At present, 75 per cent is drilled. Mechanical weed control equipment in the basement; laundry equipment in the basement; it should be installed under the kitchen or bath. The heater should be located under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for easy access to the yard from the basement.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans for this home are available; 1 set — $12.75, 2 sets — $19.35, 3 sets — $25.80. Address requests (mentioning name of home) to Home of the Week, Inc., Dept. 18, 87 Weybosset Street, Providence, R. I. Send check or money order or plans will be sent C.O.D. A complete home owner's kit and contractor's kit will be included at no extra cost.

COMMENTS ABOUT TILLAGE

1. With better chemical weed control tillage will be less important.
2. It is easy to overdo tillage for corn and other row crops.
3. Look for lower tillage costs because of fewer trips over ground.
4. From standpoint of good soil structure, much tillage may be more harmful than beneficial.
5. Greater use of chemical nitrogen reduces need for tillage.
6. In wheat areas the trend will be to keep a residue or trash cover to prevent wind and water erosion.
7. Pre-emergent herbicide sprays reduce need for early cultivations.
8. There will be less plowing and more trash-residue farming in dry areas.
9. We may look for more wide-space corn interplanted with meadow or cover crops in humid areas.
10. There will be more combined tillage machines to do several things going once over.

ment in Texas may see a greater use of the rotary hoe, according to H. P. Smith. There may be a trend toward shallower cultivation with shovels and sweeps. Possibly, there will be a trend toward fewer cultivations down to just those required to control weeds. Increased use of chemicals is likely, both for pre-emergence and post emergence control.

Additional Work
Plowing inverts the soil and displaces it. Harris of Arizona says this often throws the land out of level and makes additional work

List Helpful Hints For Care Of Wood, Metal

When gluing wood for cabinet or furniture work, remember that dampened wood expands more across the grain than with it. Be sure that both pieces of wood meet with their grain at the same angle, or the joint may crack while drying. Glue dries best and makes the strongest joints when the temperature in the room is 70 degrees or above. If the wood must be clamped with blocks while it is drying, put a layer of waxed paper between glued joint and block. This will prevent the glue from sticking to the block.

File Care

When filing metal, be sure to do all of the cutting with the forward motion of the file. If heavy pressure is used on the back stroke, it will close the file grooves by bending over the undercut ridges. To clean a file or rasp, keep a file card (a stiff metal, brush-like tool) and a wire brush handy. Use the file card to clean the harder deposits, the wire brush for the remainder. When filing paint or rasping soft wood, use the wire brush often to prevent the grooves and teeth from becoming clogged and riding over the work. Brush a little oil over the file faces to prevent rust.

REUSE HIGH CHAIR

You don't need to throw that old high chair into the basement when junior outgrows it.

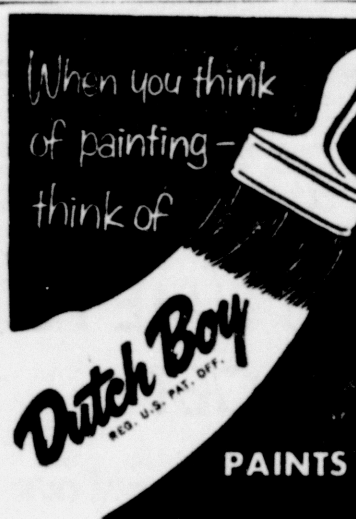

Just try this. Cut the legs off so that you have a chair that is a convenient height for the child. Leave the arms on or take them off, whichever looks best from your standpoint.

necessary to distribute the water evenly. The trend is likely to be toward a knife-like implement which heaves the soil and stands it on end, allowing the air to circulate through it.

Browning of Iowa says that another movement which may catch on rapidly is wide-space corn with interplantings of meadow and cover crops.

These and many other forecasts of tillage trends were made by these agronomists.

Give Wood New Textured Look

When installing cabinet doors in fir plywood furniture or kitchen cupboards you can get a simple modern textured surface that brings an entirely new note into your home.

It's a simple trick and all you need is access to a table saw. Here's what you do. Make a series of criss-crossed saw cuts in the surface of the panel. Run the cuts about 1/8" deep vertically and horizontally. Spacing of two inches looks well. The closer the spacing the greater the degree of texture.

This works nicely on any cabinet door but actually a series of parallel saw cuts run vertically in plywood paneling would be equally effective in achieving a vertical effect that will lend a feeling of height to the room.

STEEL CABINET COLORS

Many steel kitchen manufacturers offer steel cabinets in a wide choice of colors, including such hues as green, blue, yellow, pink, cocoa, copper, and gray. Popular soft-white cabinets, however, continue to reign as the perennial favorites.

Choose Freezer To Fit Location

In planning where to put your freezer, you may be surprised to learn that the choice of size and type of machine may be dictated by the limitations in respect to location.

If a crooked hallway must be negotiated, a long, chest freezer may be out of the question. If the basement stairs have a sharp turn at the top, it may be impossible to move anything but the smallest freezer down the stairway.

The utility room may be ideal, but if space is inadequate, the freezer may have to be put somewhere else, or else ordered to fit the space.

RIGHT PAINT FOR TRIM

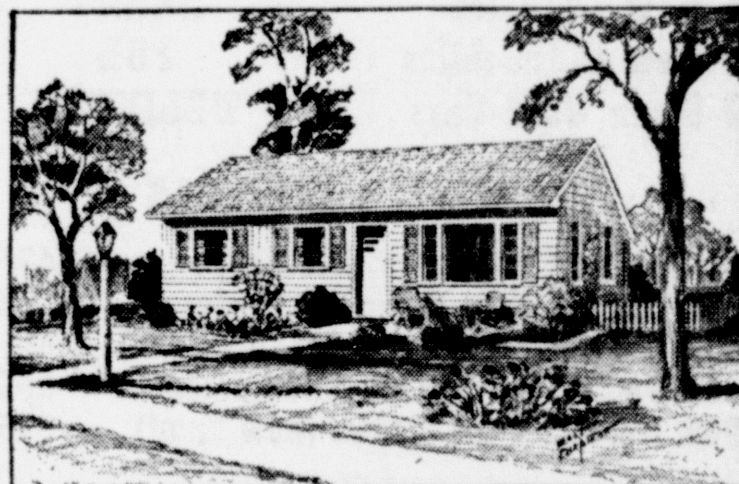

When buying white paint for the outside trim of your house, tell the dealer what material is used on the exterior. A self-cleansing type of white paint should be used only when the siding of a house is painted white. Unpainted masonry or stained shingles call for a non-chalking paint on the trim.

SENATE OKAY FOR HOFFMAN IS PREDICTED

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) forecast today Senate approval for President Eisenhower's appointments of United Nations delegates despite opposition by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to the nomination of Paul G. Hoffman.

George said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will decide Tuesday whether to hold any hearings on Hoffman. The latter's appointment appeared likely to be the only one challenged in the list of five delegates and five alternates sent to the Senate yesterday by Eisenhower.

McCarthy, who told the Senate earlier in the week Hoffman has been making statements which "could only be made by a fool or a Communist," said he plans to ask an opportunity to testify against the nominee.

Smith Backs Hoffman
Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), a committee member, said in a separate interview he is supporting Hoffman but believes there ought to be public hearings. "Some question has been raised as to whether Mr. Hoffman favors the seating of Communist China in the United Nations,"

Hotel Has Three Blazes In One Week

WELLSBORO, Pa. (AP)—Authorities investigating two fires of suspicious origin at the Penn Wells Hotel this week now have a third blaze to deal with.

A fire broke out Thursday night in some carpet underpadding left in a third floor hallway earlier in the day by some workmen. Hotel employees extinguished the blaze and none of the 75 guests was injured.

Two other minor fires that broke out Tuesday night are already under investigation by state police Fire Marshal Raymond Anderson.

Smith said, "I have told him he couldn't be confirmed if that were true."

George, the committee chairman, said there will be "little time for hearings" if the nominations are to be acted upon before congressional adjournment, which might come next week. Nevertheless, he said he had advised Hoffman to hold himself in readiness for hearings if the committee orders them.

McCarthy said that while he will oppose the Hoffman nomination when it comes before the Senate, he will not attempt any delaying filibuster.

Hoffman is chairman of the board of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., and once headed the Economic Cooperation Administration which administered foreign aid. Four years ago he was chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower.
